

Message From Leadership

Last year, the United States braced itself for Hurricane Katrina. What followed was unimaginable, yet the devastation did not end there. Hurricanes Rita and Wilma quickly followed. The fury of this trio caused the largest natural disaster in the history of the United States and the largest relief effort in the 125-year history of the American Red Cross. The Red Cross was there, before and after each storm, providing emergency relief to millions of people, including 739 families who turned to Columbus for respite from the storm.

We have never been more proud of our volunteers, staff and the greater Columbus community. Working together with city and county partners to ensure that our visitors' immediate needs were met, the Red Cross provided $522,000 in financial assistance and unmeasurable amounts of comfort and support. More than $10 million from residents and caring members of the business community was contributed to help the more than four million people who needed emergency assistance.

You can count on your Red Cross to expand lifesaving training and education programs, prepare Madison, Franklin Fayette and Pickaway counties for the major disaster that will someday occur in our own backyard, increase services to our most at-risk citizens, and lend a helping hand when large-scale disasters occur around the world.

We thank you for doing your part and hope that you will encourage others to get involved.
