A Red Cross Year in Review

Message from Leadership

Michael Schoedinger

Sally W. Bloomfield

This year, our community, nation and the entire world witnessed tragedy after tragedy - natural and man-made disasters, killing many, devastating many more. But amidst the heartbreak, powerful images emerged – images of neighbor helping neighbor, community helping community, nation helping nation.

Hurricane Season 2004 brought an unprecedented four devastating storms into FL, an earthquake and deadly tsunami killed thousands in Southeast Asia and severe winter weather brought Central Ohio to a standstill. The American Red Cross was always there, bringing hope along with help when people needed it the most.

As we find ourselves in the middle of yet another record-breaking hurricane season, we wish to thank the compassionate dedication of our volunteers and the unwavering support of our financial donors – without whom the Red Cross would cease to exist. You can count on your Red Cross to expand lifesaving training and education programs, prepare Madison, Franklin and Fayette counties for the major disaster that will someday occur in our own backyard, increase services to our most at-risk citizens, and lend a helping hand when large-scale disasters occur around the world.

In order to fulfill our obligations to this community, we must rely on the generosity of our citizens. The need for additional volunteers and financial donors is paramount. We thank you for doing your part and hope that you will encourage others to get involved. Together, we can save a life.
